Background

Lane started painting at age 12. She went to Northern Illinois University for the undergraduate work, and continued the studies at Southeastern Oklahoma University where a Master's Degree was obtained. Lane is qualified to teach grades K – 16 and has taught in the states of Illinois, Texas, Mississippi, Michigan, Alabama, and Georgia along with the Universities of Auburn and the University of Mississippi. She moved with her husband who flew for the U.S. Government and was a Federal Investigator. As shown above, many companies have used Lane's art work with licensing agreements. Lane studied Native American and western legends and folklore and cultures where those images are captures into paintings. Lane was one of 45 artist chosen world wide to study with Robert Bateman in his Master's Class. Lane arranges her work on feelings and combines Nature with Native American spiritual beliefs. She also helps to support our military programs like Wounded Warrior, the Patriot Guard, Folds of Honor and Honor Flights making her work available to be used as fund raisers for their programs.

Lane is noted for her depth of a painting and her ability to make a painting look like you could walk right into it. The pictures that reflect this the most are Painted Canyon, Vanishing Legacy, and Dinner for Two.

B. LEGEND

Each Image is available in it proportional sizes. E.g.

Those pictures that are 2 to 3 ratios, or 24" x 36" original will be available in either 8 x 12, 12, x 18, 16 x 24 frame sizes

Those pictures that are 3 x 4 ratios, or 36" x 48" originals will be available in either 9 x 12, 12 x 16, or 18 x 24 sizes.

Those pictures that are a 2 x 4 ratio will be available in the 8 x 16; 12 x 24 and 16 x 32.frame size, depending on the size of the original.

Due to 11 x 14 sizes don't equal exactly to the other sizes, as painted, you will see a little cropping of the image. E.g, on a 3 x 4 ration, a 12 x 16 will be 11 x 14.6. Thus, the .6 will be lost to fit the frame.

All Canvas Prints are Giclee (s) on Epson Professional Media, Exhibition Satin Canvas and printed on an Epson Profession Stylus 9800 Printer using Epson ULTRA Chrome K3 inks

All Paper prints are on Giclee(s) on Epson Premium Semi-matte Photo Paper and printed on an Epson Profession Stylus 9000 Printer using Epson ULTRA Chrome K3 inks

The longevity of the inks and material can be found on Epson's web site under professional media.

This is the Frame Style that is available for all Framed Pictures

You can cut this out and the middle with a razor and place it over the pictures to see how it would look

D. Howgoesit NEWS FOR May, 2024

This year has been one of the most successful years of all. Lane was working seven days a week 9-10 hour days, from May 1 till October 1. She was selling pieces as fast as I was putting them together. She sold over 1200 pieces, framed and shrink wrapped. She was a busy puppy. The atmosphere at Mt. Rushmore is unbelievable. Sitting out there and having breakfast or lunch and looking at the 4 faces is something to experience. Everyone is happy and enjoy being there. You meet people from all over the world who come there to experience it. That plus being able to go thru the Needles Highway to see the rock formations is a must. We still follow the world & US news as much as possible. It is better than a soap opera.

She really enjoys creating pictures of things that she loves – as long as it involves fur, fin, or feathers or rocks Up here on our mountain, - yes, we made mountain category in the South Dakota mountains list.

Lane is able to sit up here and overlook Custer State Park and paint to her hearts content. The place has been called Gods Country.

Our home is coming slowly. Hoping to be in it by October this year.

Lane has changed from the paint pallet to the 2" brush and siding.

Her two new pictures reflect the beauty of the Black Hills and Mt. Rushmore. Plus is show the patriotic attitude of our Nation. Founding Fathers reflects the Four Presidents and those of Native Americans who Where instrumental in molding our nation. Breakfast at Mt. Rushmore is more of an attitude a lot of people would like to have. Being out in the fresh air at 4,150 feet and view all that is good.

We hope you'all are doing well. Stay safe this year.

Chuck and Lane

Lane at The Mt. Rushmore Gift Shop

Driving thru this is like flying with the Thunderbirds. Keep your eye and left wing tip as close as safety permits to the edge and the other one will miss. In a Ford Duelly, keep your eye on your left mirror inches from the wall and the right one will clear. Image from Needles Highway, Custer State Park.

F. ORIGINAL STONE EXAMPLES

To Be Developed (TBD)

G. Stories for certain pictures

Broken Silence

This scene is at Steam Boat Springs, Co. You go to the Fish Creek Falls trail and follow the trail to the top. You will come to an area that is beautiful. The stream runs through an area of nothing but beautiful white Aspens and there was snow on the ground in the latter part of September. It had a sweet musk smell from the Aspens. The image was picked up by Leanin' Tree as a card

There are two hidden wolf heads in the picture

Guardians of the Black Hills

The local people talk about the faces in the rocks, but photographs were hard to find. Chuck took this picture on an overcast day and it shows a few of the faces. Granted, shadows play a big part in this except for the two big ones on top. They are visible with or without the sun. Chuck did not even see the rest of the faces until he went back to the room and looked at it, but again, not until he zoomed in on the picture and there they were. He said, we've (you've) got to paint this. The view is of the "Needles" while on the "Needles" highway at Custer State Park, South Dakota

Needles Hwy, Custer State park

Autumn Retreat

This scene is from Eastern Idaho, near Fawn lake. #2 Son was working for an Outfitter for the summer in this area.

Blessings from Above

A German Sculpture constructed 5 Weeping Angels after his wife died. One is in Columbus, Mississippi in the civil war cemetery, one in the cemetery just North of Denison, Texas,

Early Morning Gathering (EMG); and Day Break

This picture is from Isle Royal, Michigan. The wolves had caught a disease and all were wiped out. They were reintroduced by the State DNR. Many pictures were with the aid of Chuck and Cecil Taylor, Mich. State DNR.

EMG, one wolf's head will follow you. It will also change slightly change position by about 10 deg. It works 45 degrees to 45 degrees

Cloud Walkers

The view is at the 9,500 (est) foot level at Longs Peak at Estes Park, Co. It is part of the Rocky Mountain National Park. Due to thunderstorms and lightning, you've got to be back down by 2:00

Ghost Riders in the Sky

We were listening to my mother's old 78's records and we played "Ghost Riders in the Sky" (Sons of the Pioneers) and concluded that we had to do a picture to this song. This was and is one of Lane's favorite songs. If you look closely, you will see a lot of the words of the song in the picture. An old cowpoke, up the cloudy draw, hooves of steel, hot breath, devils herd (eyes), brands on fire, chasing the devils herd. The picture was taken to the Cattlemens' Association for accuracy. In the picture, you will see Long Horns in the lead because they will go through water and canyons, they are not afraid, and the heifers will follow. The heifers and calves are bunched together in the back.

Nasty Boys

Still unknown to a Ducks Unlimited kennel owner in Michigan, one or more puppies in his kennel ate two antique decoys valued at $32,000. They had a new baby sitter and she was told not to let any of the new puppies inside the house. They could play with them outside, but not inside. Well, -- when they came home, neither of his two girls, or the new baby sitter did not know anything about the two decoys becoming headless. But he is pretty sure that it was either the Black Lab or the Golden Retriever that committed the act. The decoys were not insured.

Accomplishments: Image used by Lean'in Tree, Beverly Corp in Japan, Artisan, Ducks Unlimited, and was in JC Penny Catalog.

Spirit Canyon

This canyon in Montana helps camouflage the Pinto's during the winter months, the same way the canyon hides the guardian spirits that protects the Pinto's. The scene is located near Great Falls, Montana and is called "The Hill" or "Kings Hill" (South of Monarch) on the map. This is where Lane got stuck in the snow storm. After the state person let her go through, the gate was closed behind her. With the big trailer behind her, she got stuck and sat there for at least 2 hours. She sketched the scene in front of her. It was snowing very hard, but when she saw a horse shake the snow from its back, she realized that there were several of them. Finally a snow plow truck came through and pulled her out. She finally made the art show at Great Falls, Mt. 8 figures faces hidden in the pic.

Accomplishments of this picture: Lean'in Tree for cards and used on puzzles by a puzzle co. Sold by Hobby Lobby

1. The Young Warrior is crawling towards the horses with a mountain goat Skin over him.
2. Chief Joseph or Hein-Mot too-Ya-la-kekt of the Nez Perce looking towards the horses and with a chiefs head dress on.
3. A young Geronimo peaking from behind the edge of a fault.

4. Medicine Crow, a Crow war leader.
This tells you there are hidden images in the picture.
5. Black Elk.
6. Wovaka, (Paiute Messiah) who initiated the Ghost Dance doctrine.
7. Quana Parker, Principal Chief of the Comanche
8. Tonasa, Quanah Parker's wife, with child in front of her.

Calling of the Spirits

The "Calling of the Spirits" recalls how the Indians believe that the eagle flew up into the heavens and its wings touched the Great Spirit's face and became holy. They believe that when calling the "Great Spirit", the spirits of the guardians or great warriors of the past will reappear. Hidden in the cliffs are the faces of:

1. Sitting Bull 2. Stand Waite 3. Geronimo 4. Black Elk 5. To Hau Son 6. Cochise 7. Naiche
8. Santana 9. Chief Joseph 10. A lesser Chief

Accomplishments: Used by Lean'in Tree for cards, used by Bradford Exchange for plates.

Wind Stalkers

This is near Nome Alaska where the Heidi Native Americans artifacts were found. It was not known that they had progress that far North from the Sitka area. The canoe is from the wolf clan and the eagles wing to make the canoe go faster. This is noted by the eagles' wing & wolf sign on the side of the canoe. Wind Stalkers comes from the Heidi, when the wolves play in the wind snow eddies on the lake.

Accomplishments: Used by Lean'in Tree for cards.

The Challenge

This scene is South of Laramie, Wy., in the Roosevelt National Forest

Accomplishments of this picture: Used by Ducks Unlimited for their Western Pacific Flyway as a fund raiser.

Bad Attitude

This picture is of a buffalo in a pond located at the intersection of Hwy 16A and the wildlife loop in Custer State Park, Custer, SD. Lane entered it into the South Dakota Tourism contest. It was of an angry buffalo coming out of the water. He was coming towards us and proceeded to get faster, and his tail went up, and I said to Lane, lets get out of here, jumped into our duelly and "scadaddled" That's short for "lets went Cisco". We submitted the picture to the South Dakota Tourism for competition and it won 1st place for that time period. South Dakota Tourism called it a "playful buffalo". Ha! ☺ We decided to do an original with prints from it. The photo got over 11,000 likes in a few days on face Book . We named it "Bad Attitude" or B.A. ☺

Unsung Heroes

This picture is in honor of all first responders past and present. The figure in the upper left corner is a drawing on the National State Police Memorial. The eagle represents the American pride and the courage of these men and women. . The bag pipes are an important part of the first responders that are used in ceremonies and funerals. The paramedic represents all the men and women in the medical field. The 9/11 cross represents our nations' strength in troubled times and determination to stay free and strong, and the fireman's courage to go into fires at their own peril. The police women and policemen who serve and protect even the youngest. The K9 division that help protect their handlers and go into areas to search out possible infractions of the law and lost people. When she asked police and firemen what they think about when they head to a fire or an incident, they all said that they hope they are in God's hands.

"Spirit of the Black Hills", "Strong Medicine" and "I Yo Tatonka"

These three pictures are of the largest buffalo at Custer State Park. They brand them with the year they were born. Then after ten years, they thin the herd and sell off older ones to other parks, etc. This particular one does not have a brand on him. He is really big and has escaped branding for at least 10 years, maybe 20 years. There is now a large mounted head at the Park Rangers Station that a car had hit at night time. The car was totaled. It is really big. We do not know if it is the same one or not.

"Born to Serve"

This picture is dedicated to the service dogs, in both the military and personal. They do their duty with courage and without hesitation.

Montana Autumn: View is East of Great Falls, MT and West of Livingston, MT.

Accomplishments of this picture: The image was used by Quilting Treasures for their quilting material

“Natures Fury” This picture occurred as a result of the fire at Custer State Park between December 11, 2017 till December 20th. Due to the approaching fire, we were called at 11:30 pm to evacuate our home on LH road near the park. The fire, under 35 – 50 mph winds, the fire had advanced to within ¾ of a mile from us. But we were in Oklahoma for the winter. ☺ The fire continued for about 5 days and burned more than 54,000 acres, about half of the park. It continued SE towards Hwy 79 and Buffalo Gap. It started near Legion Lake when a power pole went down in the wind and sparked the ground.

“Shades of Courage” This picture is in tribute to those who have fought for our Nation. Geronimo is included due to his beliefs and leadership. Left to right, Revolutionary War, WWII, Vietnam, Afghanistan/Iraq war, Korean Conflict, WWI, Geronimo.

“Patriot Guardians” This picture is dedicated to those who have served. It is of our National Cemetery of those who have fallen. The picture shows that children, as well as animals, can see the spirits of those soldiers. It shows the outfits of the soldiers in their time frame. A K-9 handler, a Vietnam soldier, an Afghanistan soldier, and two Desert Storm/shield soldiers. In the clouds, and above the trees, some were able to pick out the horse and rider. They say it represents the 1st Cav Unit. ☺ Lane did not intend to put it there. It just happened. The patch on the back of the veteran states: THE NATION THAT FORGETS ITS DEFENDERS WILL ITSELF, BE FORGOTTEN. It is part of the tribute collection from HERO'S PRIDE.
